Which ABFA Member Company will be crowned ABFA Quiz Champions 2009?

We are, once again, hosting another round of educational promotional evenings to see which Member company will be crowned 'ABFA Quiz Champions'. Just like last year, the evenings are open to all and will be hosted by the company QuizQuizQuiz; with a round of free drinks and some nibbles to get your brain cells working!

There will be five regional heats round the country and the top two teams of each heat will be invited to the final in Birmingham. All evenings start at 6pm onwards, with the quiz beginning promptly at 7pm. Dates and venues are below.

Visit the ABFA website at - www.abfa.org.uk/publicdb/select\_event.asp to register a team to attend a regional event, and look under Networking Events to find your regional heat. Please see the Rules and Regulations below before entering a team. The winning team and company will receive a trophy and, more importantly, the illustrious title of 'ABFA Quiz Champions 2009'. Good luck!

THE RULES

1. All people on each team must work for the Member company they are representing.
2. Any ABFA Member company can apply to enter as many teams as they wish. If applications exceed capacity the ABFA may need to limit the number of teams per member.
3. Teams can be any number of people, up to 8 people strong.
4. Teams must be entered at least two weeks before the heat that you choose to attend. Bookings will be closed a week in advance of each heat. Bookings for all Quiz Nights are open for booking on the ABFA website, please see details above.
5. A person can only attend one regional heat. (i.e. you cannot represent your company on more than one team or on more than one occasion, unless it is the final.)
6. Last minute substitutions may be made on a team in the heats, as long as the person meets the criteria above. However, for the final only two substitutions per team will be permitted.
7. No blackberrys or mobile phones may be switched on during the course of the quiz. (You will be monitored and automatically disqualified if you are found to have any electrical item turned on that may give you a competitive advantage.)
8. All entrants must be over 18 years of age.

Otherwise, the team that was in the heat, must be the same team that attends the final.
